

Jeanne Brasile

www.jeannebrasile.com

jeanne@jeannebrasile.com

EDUCATION:

Ramapo College of New Jersey, Mahwah, New Jersey; B.A. in Art History/Studio Art
Seton Hall University, South Orange, New Jersey; M.A. in Museum Professions
Seton Hall University, South Orange, New Jersey; Certificate - Financial Management for Non-Profits
Support Center for Non-Profit Management; Certificate in Fundraising for Non-Profits
Yoga Farm, Ithaca, New York; 200 Hour Yoga Teaching Training Certification
Yogamu LLC, San Marcos, California; Introduction to Teaching Pranayama Certificate
New York University, Tandon School of Engineering; Physiology of Yoga Certificate

TEACHING EXPERIENCE:

June 2022 to present

Independent Yoga Instructor

- Offering instruction to corporate clients and private students on location, in my home studio and online
- Lead Vinyasa classes to diverse group of students infusing other yoga styles and movement practices
- Incorporate meditation, pranayama and yoga humanities into instruction

2006 to Present

Director,

Walsh Gallery, Seton Hall University, South Orange, New Jersey

- Develop challenging and engaging exhibitions with strong social justice themes and critical narratives
- Cultivate collaborative relationships to bring more support to gallery initiatives
- Outreach to off-campus community via programs, workshops and collaborative projects

2006 - 2020

Adjunct Professor - Museum Studies, Seton Hall University, South Orange, NJ

- Classes: Exhibitions A – Z, Anatomy of a Museum, Producing an Exhibition

2004 – 05, 2009, 2011

Adjunct Professor - Art History, Montclair State University, Montclair, NJ

- Classes: Introduction to Art in Western Civilization I & II

OTHER EXPERIENCE:

- Experienced grant writer with proven track record of securing grant funds
- Seasoned in creating engaging lesson plans, exhibitions, programs and events
- Excellent project management and organizational skills
- Youth mentor – work with at-risk inner-city K – 12 students, college students and emerging professionals

Yoga is an instrument of wellness and empowerment – encompassing the mind, body and spirit – and a means for healing, positivity and self-realization.